Buddy Mays: The Mastermind Behind Au Service Du Roi

Buddy Mays' journey in the world of bourbon making began at an early age. Growing up in the heart of Kentucky, he was surrounded by the rich tradition and culture of bourbon production. Inspired by his family's long-standing involvement in the industry, Mays pursued a career as a distiller, honing his skills and knowledge at every turn.

After years of apprenticeship and hands-on experience, Mays emerged as a master distiller with a keen understanding of the intricacies of bourbon production. His passion for innovation and unwavering pursuit of excellence led him to create Au Service Du Roi, a bourbon that embodies his dedication to craftsmanship and the pursuit of perfection.

The Art of Crafting Au Service Du Roi

The creation of Au Service Du Roi is a meticulous process that begins with the careful selection of high-quality corn, rye, and barley grains. These grains are then milled and cooked to create a mash, which is fermented using a proprietary yeast strain. After fermentation, the resulting liquid is distilled in copper pot stills, a technique that imparts a distinctive character to the bourbon.

The distilled spirit is then aged in charred American oak barrels for a minimum of six years. During this aging process, the bourbon interacts with the oak, developing a rich amber color and acquiring complex flavors and aromas. Mays closely monitors the aging process, ensuring that the bourbon reaches its peak maturity and balance.

Au Service Du Roi's Signature Characteristics

Au Service Du Roi bourbons are characterized by their exceptional smoothness, depth of flavor, and long, lingering finish. The brand's flagship bourbon, the 10-Year Single Barrel Bourbon, showcases these qualities in abundance. Aged for a decade in hand-selected barrels, this bourbon offers a symphony of flavors, with notes of caramel, toasted oak, vanilla, and a hint of spice.

The complexity of Au Service Du Roi bourbons extends beyond their signature 10-Year Single Barrel Bourbon. The brand's portfolio includes a range of expressions, each with its own unique flavor profile. These include the 7-Year Bottled-in-Bond Bourbon, the 12-Year Small Batch Bourbon, and the 15-Year Single Barrel Bourbon.
