About the Author

Sue Orr is a New Zealand writer and trumper who has spent years exploring and hiking the country's many trails. She is also the author of several other hiking guides, including Great Walks of New Zealand and Tramping New Zealand.

The Book

Loop Tracks Sue Orr is divided into three main sections:

1. The North Island

2. The South Island

3. The Chatham Islands

Each section includes detailed descriptions of the region's loop tracks, along with maps, photos, and elevation profiles. The book also includes information on how to get to the trailheads, what to expect on the trails, and where to stay and eat along the way.

The Trails

The loop tracks described in this book range in difficulty from easy to challenging, and in length from a few hours to several days. Some of the most popular trails include:

- Tongariro Alpine Crossing (North Island)
- Abel Tasman Coastal Track (South Island)
- Milford Track (South Island)
- Kepler Track (South Island)
- Chatham Islands Loop Track (Chatham Islands)

These trails offer hikers stunning scenery, challenging terrain, and a chance to experience the beauty of New Zealand's natural heritage.

Planning Your Trip

If you are planning to hike a loop track in New Zealand, it is important to do your research and prepare in advance. Here are a few tips:

- Choose the right trail for your fitness level and experience.

- Book your accommodation in advance, especially if you are hiking during peak season.
- Pack for all types of weather conditions.
- Let someone know your itinerary and when you expect to return.
- Be aware of the risks associated with hiking in New Zealand, such as avalanches, slips, and falls.

With a little planning and preparation, you can have a safe and enjoyable hiking adventure on one of New Zealand's many loop tracks.

Loop Tracks Sue Orr is the essential guide to hiking New Zealand's most scenic trails. With detailed descriptions, maps, and photos, this book has everything you need to plan your next hiking adventure. So what are you waiting for? Get out there and explore the beauty of New Zealand!
