Step 1: Gather Your Supplies

Before you start looking for your lost video game, you'll need to gather a few supplies. These include:

- A flashlight
- A dustpan and brush
- A vacuum cleaner

- A pair of gloves

Step 2: Prepare the Area

Once you have your supplies, you'll need to prepare the area where you'll be searching. This means moving any furniture or other objects that may be blocking your access to the couch. You should also vacuum the area to remove any dust or debris.

Step 3: Start Searching

Now it's time to start searching for your lost video game. Begin by shining your flashlight under the couch. Look for any sign of the game, such as the box, the cartridge, or the disc. If you see the game, carefully reach under the couch and retrieve it.

Step 4: Clean the Game

Once you have found your lost video game, it's important to clean it before playing it. This will help to remove any dust or debris that may have accumulated on the game. To clean the game, use a soft cloth to wipe down the exterior. You can also use a cotton swab to clean the contacts on the cartridge or disc.

Step 5: Enjoy Your Game!

Now that you have found and cleaned your lost video game, it's time to enjoy it! Pop the game into your console and start playing. You may have lost the game for a while, but now you can enjoy it again.
